My Home Insurance policy is applicable for all as follows: A) Homeowners who own a property that is not more than 50 years old can purchase our My Home Insurance policy. B) Tenants living in a rented accommodation, as well as others who do not have home ownership, can insure their contents of the property occupied by them. It is important to assess the value of your home structure and its contents properly before purchasing a house insurance policy, just to make sure that you are not under or over insured. This could affect the claim amount in case of a loss, or you might end up paying more premium than what you are supposed to pay. To simplify the value assessment process, we have broken down the factors into three different basis for structure, and two different basis for content which you can choose from, as per your requirement: Agreed value basis: You can cover the structure of your property on the value agreed upon with us that could be higher than the market value. This is applicable only for structure and not content. Reinstatement basis: If you decide to purchase the home insurance policy under reinstatement value basis, there will be no depreciation imposed at the time of claim and you will be paid the total cost of replacement depending on the sum insured. This is applicable only for structure and not content. Indemnity value basis: Indemnity value basis, commonly known as market value basis is a method used to insure structure that considers the depreciation amount as per the age of the building, at the time of claim. This method can also be applied when insuring content. New for old basis: When this method is chosen for insuring content, the item damaged beyond repair will be replaced with a new one or we will pay out the cost for replacement of the item in full, regardless of its age. Your dream home deserves to be protected. Our My Home Insurance policy is a very affordable financial tool designed to cover your home and its contents against natural and man-made calamities such as earthquakes, floods, fire, theft, burglaries and any other risks it might be prone to. Property insurance is a policy offered to homeowners who wish to cover their property structure as well as its contents, which will protect them against financial losses caused due to incidents such as fire, burglary, flood, theft, etc. You can also cover only the contents of the house that you have rented for living purpose. Bajaj Allianz My Home insurance policy covers several perils due to which damages can be caused to your property and its contents. However, there are certain conditions under which they cannot be covered such as pre-existing damages to the structure and content, defective workmanship, manufacturing defects in mechanical and electrical items, improper handling of contents, loss or damage directly or indirectly in consequence of war, invasion or act of foreign enemy hostilities, mysterious disappearance and unexplained covers, and loss or damage to the insured property or to the general public due to or immoral or due to any of the perils mentioned above and it needs repairs, you will get the benefit of renting an alternative accommodation until the property is fixed again. The documents needed for home insurance claims depends on the peril due to which the damage was caused since that can be presented as evidence. If there was a fire, you would need to present a fire brigade report along with the claim form duly filled and signed, whereas, if there was a theft, an FIR would need to be lodged and its details should be provided to us. In any case, the claim form is required to process the claim. You can calculate the sum insured for your home and its contents either on an agreed value basis, reinstatement basis or an indemnity basis. Yes, you may increase the sum insured for your home during the tenure of the policy by opting for an escalation clause at an extra premium not exceeding 25%. Note: Escalation clause is available only on building SI chosen on the basis of reinstatement and indemnity basis.
