No T.L. Jones? No Problem a revamp of MIB that works 9unlike the revamped Doom movie)Verified purchaseZero Spoilers in this reviewSo I agree with most of you readers, a revamp of a movie seldom works, with a few exceptions, Fury Road (Mad Max) others are considered a total wipeout like the latest Fantastic Four (which I did enjoy, and saw several times, but pales compared to the 1st 2 movies)MIB International has a great cast, and seems to flow the same way as the previous 3 MIB movies: Humor, special effects, some familiar faces, a decent plot and this time the Star is a woman (about time, right ladies?).It will most definitely be a movie that you end up seeing more then once, several to be exact.Considering this is about policing the galaxy, I wanted to take a moment to thank the 'guys' in Blue, the police force that has sacrificed and devoted their lives to protect USA especially during this pandemic. Officers, thank you for your service, sacrifice & devotion. I'm so glad I did, because I haven't had so much fun watching a movie in awhile.I get why some people wouldn't like this. If you want your tough-guy Tommy Lee Jones/Will Smith duo, you won't get that. It's targeted at a different (ahem...largely female...more international) crowd.Tessa Thompson plays the main character, the nerdy but kick-ass Agent M. She helps a big-eyed, furry alien as a child, and then continues to pursue the MIB as an adult. At the beginning of the movie, she's finally found their NYC offices and sneaks in. Tessa Thompson was great in the lead role, and her brainy, independent character was a refreshing change from some of the previous MIB women.The aliens are a lot different than you'll remember. Instead of scaly, reptilian creatures, most of the aliens are...freaking adorable. I mean, I really loved them! Fur, feathers, fuzz. The aliens were more reminiscent of Frank Oz's style or Fantastic Beasts/Harry Potter than they were of the original MIB aliens. (There are a few cameos from the aliens you loved from the original franchise, so no worries.) And the main sidekick alien is a wisecracking wannabe gnome played by Kumail Nanjiani, whose humor really stole the show.This takes place in London, so most of the agents are nerdy, goofball Brits and Aussies, al la Doctor Who. Chris Hemsworth and Tessa Thompson have great chemistry, although there is not strictly a romance. Emma Thompson is her usual dignified-but-quirky self, and Liam Neeson plays the head of the London office. Yes, parts of this are predictable, but who cares? The tropes are part of the fun. It's MIB! (Although the Women in Black digs were super fun, and were very much appreciated. :)) I thought the story was overall quite strong, and the writing/dialogue was spot-on.I'll be totally honest--I think I enjoyed this more than any of the original films. But I'm in the target audience. I like furry-over-slimy aliens, kickass women with brains, and wisecracking mini gnome aliens who have a misplaced sense of chivalry. So if you're the type of person who likes Fantastic Beasts, Labyrinth, or even Star Wars....this is probably up your alley. But if you're looking for old-school MIB and something that's more classically SF, you may not get what you want. I will definitely watch this again, and I've already recommended it to several people.5 people found this helpfulSee all reviews The Men in Black have always protected the Earth from the scum of the universe.
